

Name _____

Date _____

Grade Level: 3rd Grade | Standard: 3.3.R.2

Point-of-View

First Person Point-of-View  A character is telling the story.          The character is in the story and is experiencing the action.	Third Person Point-of-View  A narrator is telling the story.          The narrator is NOT in the story, but is telling what is happening.
I                      we  me                     our  my                     us  myself               ourselves	him/her              they  he/she               their  his/hers             them  it/its                 themselves

Directions: Circle the pronouns in each sentence, then determine if the sentence is written in first or third person.

Circle One

- |   |              |              |
|---|--------------|--------------|
| 1. Yesterday, my mom and I went to the pumpkin patch. | first person | third person |
| 2. She is going apple picking with Julia.             | first person | third person |
| 3. Our family can't wait for football season!         | first person | third person |
| 4. I can't wait to play in the leaves!                | first person | third person |
| 5. Henry needs to mow his lawn.                       | first person | third person |
| 6. Rachel and Zac are walking their dog.              | first person | third person |

Directions: Use first person or third persons pronouns to complete each sentence.

	Jimmy	Zana	Teachers
First Person	_____ like to cook.	_____ family is traveling this fall break.	_____ can't wait for the school musical.
Third Person	_____ wants to be a chef.	_____ can't wait to see the mountains.	_____ love when students sing.

ANSWER KEY

First Person Point-of-View  A character is telling the story.          The character is in the story and is experiencing the action.	Third Person Point-of-View  A narrator is telling the story.          The narrator is NOT in the story, but is telling what is happening.
I                      we  me                    our  my                    us  myself              ourselves	him/her              they  he/she               their  his/hers             them  it/its                 themselves

Directions: Circle the pronouns in each sentence, then determine if the sentence is written in first or third person.

- |   |                                |
|---|--------------------------------|
|   | Circle One              |
| 1. Yesterday, (my) mom and (I) went to the pumpkin patch. | (first person)    third person |
| 2. (She) is going apple picking with Julia.               | first person    (third person) |
| 3. (Our) family can't wait for football season!           | (first person)    third person |
| 4. (I) can't wait to play in the leaves!                  | (first person)    third person |
| 5. Henry needs to mow (his) lawn.                         | first person    (third person) |
| 6. Rachel and Zac are walking (their) dog.                | first person    (third person) |

Directions: Use first person or third persons pronouns to complete each sentence.

	Jimmy	Zana	Teachers
First Person	I like to cook.	My family is traveling this fall break.	We can't wait for the school musical.
Third Person	He wants to be a chef.	She can't wait to see the mountains.	They love when students sing.